

Fuel Economy Facts

The current federal fuel economy standards are working. Pickup truck and SUV drivers BENEFIT MOST from strong fuel economy standards, according to the EPA's 2018 Trends Report.

#CleanerCars #CleanerTrucks

While nearly 9 in 10 consumers agree that automakers should continue to improve the fuel efficiency for all vehicles, only 30% of Americans believe automakers care about lowering fuel costs for their customers. Data comes from a nationally representative survey by Consumer Reports.

"Even with low gas prices, consumers still want fuel economy to improve, including in larger vehicles. Automakers should pay attention to these findings and develop more efficient vehicles to give consumers what they want."

- Shannon Baker-Branstetter, Senior Policy Counsel, Consumer Reports

