

"EJ WEDNESDAY"

INTERVIEW SERIES

Tune in on Facebook for ANHE's 2nd "EJ Wednesday" interview series with Atenas Mena, MSN, RN, CPN of Clean Air Now for a discussion on social determinants of health, the overlap between environmental racism and public health, and policy advocacy for strengthening of Federal safeguards to protect health as a form of nursing care.

Clean Air Now is a climate and environmental justice organization dedicated to improving environmental health of those impacted by environmental racism, toxic air pollution and climate change.
